

- I. Write an application that will use at least two of the design patterns presented in the lecture. Is your program a valid example of using design patterns or not? Try to keep the use of design patterns not forced.